

Prior Learning Assessment and Recognition (PLAR) Application Package

Overview

Canadian and international applicants who have not graduated from a Canadian accredited program may be eligible complete a Prior Learning Assessment and Learning Assessment (PLAR) to determine if they are eligible to challenge the National Examinations.

The purpose of PLAR is to determine if a candidate has a combination of knowledge and skills equivalent to a recent graduate from a Canadian accredited program. NACOR administers PLAR on behalf of the Saskatchewan College of Opticians (SCO). Upon successful completion of PLAR, candidates become eligible to challenge the National Examinations for Canadian Opticians and register with the SCO.

The PLAR Process

1. Document Review

Review of the required documents submitted with the application form (see requirements below). If the document review is successful, the candidate will continue with the PLAR process. If the document review is unsuccessful, the candidate will be informed of alternative pathways to registration.

2. PLAR Professional Practice Bridging Modules

All PLAR candidates are required to complete a series of professional practice bridging modules (Legislation, Communication, Professionalism, and Infection Control). The bridging modules are self-study. Each bridging module contains an interactive portion and a theoretical portion. Candidates will work through both sections of the bridging modules at their own pace. Upon completion of each module, candidates will be required to successfully complete a post-test.

3. Competency Gap Analysis (CGA)

The CGAs are multiple-choice assessments based on the National Competencies for Canadian Opticians. There are two CGAs, one for dispensing eyeglasses and one for dispensing contact lenses.

- a. Eyeglasses and Low Vision: 150 questions (2.5-hour time limit)
- b. Contact Lens: 130 questions (2-hour time limit)

All PLAR candidates are required to complete the Eyeglasses and Low Vision CGA. Candidates who have applied for contact lenses will be required to complete the Contact Lens CGA as well.

4. CGA Results

The results from each CGA produce a computer-generated score card used to determine if there are any gaps in knowledge and skills. If gaps are identified, candidates will be required to complete additional bridging modules before proceeding. Upon completion of each assigned module, candidates will be required to successfully complete a post-test.

If no gaps are identified, candidates will be eligible to proceed immediately.

5. National Examinations

Apply for and complete the National Examinations for Canadian Opticians. There are two national examinations: one for dispensing eyeglasses and one for dispensing contact lenses.

6. Register

After successful completion of the National Examination(s), candidates become eligible to apply for registration to independently practice as an optician in the province they applied to work in.
